

STUDENT ASSISTANCE TEAMS

At Adrian Public Schools, we believe in quality learning for every student, every day. To accomplish this, we have Student Assistance Teams (SAT) available to help with academic, behavioral, physical and social-emotional needs of our individual students.

The Student Assistance Team is an important problem-solving team that utilizes the meeting mechanics process. This team develops an action plan incorporating strategies and interventions. The information shared at the SAT meeting is documented and readily available for ongoing review and support.

Student Assistance Teams have been established at each school. Not every student requires such services, however, if you have concerns regarding your child's academic progress, please contact your child's school principal.
